EDU 691: NATURE AND NEEDS OF THE GIFTED LEARNER

COURSE SYLLABUS

DEPARTMENT: ELC

3 CREDIT HRS.

I. TITLE: NATURE AND NEEDS OF THE GIFTED LEARNER

II. COURSE DESCRIPTION.

A course to provide opportunities for experienced teachers and teacher trainees to develop knowledge and awareness of the characteristics and needs of gifted children and youth, and provides the individual student with opportunities to apply general educational principles for the gifted and talented to total educational concerns.

III. PURPOSE

The primary purpose of this course is the acquisition of a research knowledge base on theories of intelligence; and the characteristics, identification and special needs of gifted students. Through an analysis of the dynamics of giftedness and the unique educational needs of this population, teachers will learn to integrate and apply this knowledge base and to become an advocate for appropriate gifted education policies and procedures.

IV. COURSE OBJECTIVES

Each of the behaviors indicated below are referenced to the Kentucky Teacher Standards (KTS) and to the Council for Exceptional Children/National Association for Gifted Children (CEC/NAGC) Standards and are understood to be reflective of, but not limited to, those behaviors advocated by the Kentucky Educational Reform Act Initiatives.

The CEC/NAGC Standards addressed in this course are as follows (see Appendix A for specific criteria under each standard):

- Standard 1: Foundations
- Standard 2: Development and Characteristics of Learners
- Standard 3: Individual Learning Differences
- Standard 8: Assessment
- Standard 9: Professional and Ethical Practices

As a result of their participation in this course, students will grow as Reflective Decision-Makers and will be able to:

1. Describe indicators of gifted potential and behaviors in students and explain various definitions used in identifying the gifted population for educational services. (KTS 2;
CEC/NAGC 1, 2, 8)

2. Analyze major philosophies, theories, models, and research supporting giftedness and talented education with a historical perspective. (KTS 1; CEC/NAGC 1)

3. Describe and analyze developmental differences (cognitive, social-emotional, and physical) and learning needs and patterns among gifted individuals at all critical stages of development. (KTS 5; CEC/NAGC 3)

4. Articulate the complexities of the current trends, issues and policies involved in the definition of giftedness and intelligence and the services provided to the gifted at local, state, and federal levels. (KTS 1,2; CEC/NAGC 1, 2)

5. Identify the dynamics of family influences and other cognitive and affective developmental variables that impact to the development of giftedness – including domain-specific areas of giftedness, cultural diversity, poverty, twice-exceptionality, English as a second language, and other indicators of important distinction of learning. (KTS 3; CEC/NAGC 1,2)

6. Identify characteristics and special needs of gifted students and to be able to describe and evaluate teaching and learning experiences to create effective learning environments for these students. (KTS 2, 3, 4; CEC/NAGC 2, 3, 8)

7. Examine multiple measures and procedures for identifying gifted students consistent with legal, ethical and practical policies and procedures in schools. (KTS 5; CEC/NAGC 8).

The COE Conceptual Framework and the Theme of Educator as Reflective Decision-Maker are addressed in this course by urging students to consider the gifted student’s abilities and needs, reflect on how to best serve those needs, collect data regarding instructional interventions, reflect upon the implications of those data, and thus make informed decisions about future instruction.

The theme of Diversity is explored in the course through planning multifaceted instructional and assessment options. Students learn to assess and plan for the learning and achievement of all learners, regardless of gender, ethnicity, learning styles, or exceptionalities.

Technology is addressed through the provision of current web resources in the area of creativity and gifted education, use of technology in teaching and learning activities in the course, and through Blackboard-enhanced instruction.

The ESPB Themes – Diversity, Assessment, Literacy/Reading, and Gap Achievement are analyzed and discussed as students research, write and prepare professional programs to fully explore the topic.

X. ATTENDANCE POLICY

Participation and achievement are closely related and affect the learning of all. Students are expected to devote an appropriate amount of time each week to the course reading and activities. Failure to do so jeopardizes the learning of not only the individual, but his/her group and the class as a whole. See the Attendance Policy in the current MSU Graduate Bulletin.

XI. ACADEMIC HONESTY POLICY.

All work, although (as is all our knowledge) based on the knowledge of others, must be the student’s own work. Cheating, plagiarism, or other academic dishonesty is clearly a violation of academic standards and university policy. See the Academic Honesty Policy in the current MSU Graduate Bulletin.
