Dr. Jacqueline Hansen called the meeting to order at 12:25 PM. Attending committee members were Dr. Jo Robertson and Dr. Chhanda Islam.

The purpose of the meeting was to review the proposed EDU 104 Exploration of Teaching syllabus. EDU 104 is a bridge course between EDU 103 and upper level education classes. It is part of the Murray State University- Teacher Quality Institute high school dual credit program. To qualify for admission to EDU 104, high school students must successfully complete EDU 103 and have a recommendation of their EDU 103 instructor. In Spring 2003, this was taught as an experimental course. It was so well-received that we are now seeking to have the course officially placed on the course registry.

After committee members discussed the purpose and vision of the course, they independently read the course syllabus. Dr. Robertson suggested the word “preschool” be added to objectives IV-B and IV-D to reflect the complete nature of the MSU education program. This change was made in the proposed syllabus. After further discussion, the committee took these actions:

1. Submitted a form to delete EDU 203 (the course that was accepted on an experimental basis)
2. Submit a form to add a new course, EDU 104 Exploration of Teaching. Please note the number has been changed from 203 to 104 to reflect the introductory nature of the course.

The meeting was adjourned at 12:55 PM.

Respectfully submitted,

Dr. Jacqueline Hansen
